Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

THERE is a difference between wealth and leadership, just as there is a difference between poverty and slavery. The money America lost in the 1929-33 panic should not blind her to the true qualities which distinguish men whether rich or poor.

New U. S. Program Begun Monday in Hempstead County

The Emergency Relief Administration program, successor to the CWA, started in Hempstead county Monday.

Threefold Relief Plan Succeeds Civil Works Administration

The new program, the third inaugurated within the past eight months, provides for three methods of relief:

DISTRICT MEETING

Staffs of 10 Counties Will Gather in Hope Friday Night

The Emergency Relief Administration program, successor to the CWA, started in Hempstead county Monday.

The new program, the third inaugurated within the past eight months, provides for three methods of relief:

Rehabilitation for rural families. Manual labor for the unemployed. Distribution of surplus commodities.

Under the works division of which R. B. Stanford is in charge, a small crew of laborers started work Monday erecting a high wire fence on the north side of Brookwood school to protect children from the flow of traffic on Highway 67.

Approved Projects

Other projects approved under the new program are:

Extension of the city water mains. South Elm street paving.

Repair work on the Shover, Street school.

Experiment Station road project, which extends from Highway 67 past the experiment station to DeAnn.

The project calls for planting of shrubs and trees to be furnished by the experiment farm. The road is to be graveled in places.

The work program will be directed first toward completion of projects started under the CWA. Mr. Stanford said.

District Meet Friday

To expedite the program in south-west Arkansas a district meeting will be held here Friday night. Members of the state staff, county administrators, committees and social workers will be in attendance.

Counties to be represented Friday are: Hempstead, Nevada, Clark, Pike, Howard, Little River, Miller, Lafayette and Columbia.

The rural rehabilitation program in which J. R. Henry is in charge, will be administered by a county committee consisting of the county agent, Frank Stanley, home demonstration agent, Miss Helen Griffin, and a business man, Roy Anderson.

Details of the rural program were not available Monday.

The Emergency Relief Administration program will continue the balance of this year.

No definite amount of money for Hempstead county has been allotted. The sum will determine the amount of men to be worked. The amount allotted to each county is based on population.

Barrow's Car Is Found in Kansas

Bullet-Riddled Machine Discovered at Haystack Near Ottawa

OTTAWA, Kan.—(AP)—The motor car from which Clyde Barrow is accused of spreading death through Texas and Oklahoma was found abandoned on a farm near here Sunday, its windshield perforated by bullets.

The Department of Justice announced the machine's identity as it passed its search with Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Texas peace officials for the southwestern desperado, his 22-year-old woman companion, Bonnie Parker, and a second man.

In the motor car, Sheriff W. A. Wantland said, was a blood-stained necktie, apparently the property of Percy Boyd Commerce (Okla.) police chief, who was wounded by Barrow and held his captive 14 hours after the desperado shot and killed Cal Campbell, Miami (Okla.) constable, last Friday.

The automobile was found near a haystack. It bore no license.

In addition to the slaying of Constable Campbell, Barrow is accused of killing two Texas highway patrolmen last Sunday and of slaying at least four other men. Authorities believed he was accompanied on his flight from Oklahoma to Kansas by either Raymond Hamilton or Henry Methvin, escaped Texas convicts, besides Bonnie Parker.

Reorganization of Schools Is Upheld by Supreme Court

Ballot Title on Referendum Petitions Declared Insufficient

15 DAYS ALLOWED

Attorneys May Request Leave to File New Battle Title

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—By a 4 to 3 decision the Arkansas Supreme Court Monday held insufficient the ballot title on petitions for a referendum on the State Education Department reorganization act—thus declaring the act to be in effect.

Fifteen days were allowed to file a motion for rehearing, and the act remains inoperative in the meantime.

Attorneys expected that the next legal step would be a petition to allow the filing of a new ballot title since that question was not passed on Monday in the opinion written by Chief Justice Johnson.

The act, which has been held ineffective by the referendum petitions, provides for a new State Board of Education and for the restoration of the elective office of superintendent of public instruction in place of the appointive commissioner of education.

It is in this second role that most of us were familiar with Mr. Kahn's name. He was a mainstay in the activities of the great Metropolitan Opera House; he sincerely and honestly loved fine music and the other arts; he gave substantial encouragement to practitioners of those arts; and, altogether, he left his country somewhat richer, in those respects, than he found it.

Yet it is very hard to say whether, in the life of his time, this role actually outweighed the other—that of big-shot banker.

For the Otto Kahn of Wall Street was another man, and those of us who live outside of New York and have little or nothing to do with the money markets of the metropolis weren't so familiar with him.

But if you let your memory wander back to the early days of the century, and recall the famous "Northern Pacific corner," in which Hill and Harman waged a bitter fight for railroad control and precipitated a panic on the country in consequence, you'll get an understanding of it.

Kahn was Harriman's banker, in that titanic dog fight; he was, in other words, one of the typical money lords of the stock market, one of those men whom cartoonists used to caricature as paunchy folk in frock coats and top hats, with money bags clutched in their fists.

And so you have the contrast; on the one hand, the patron of the arts, the man who helped to make American life richer and fuller—and, on the other, the money changer, a leader in that class whose leadership has been so profoundly called into question of late.

How are you going to strike a balance between the two roles?

Banners Are Hung Up for Hope Trade Day on Thursday

Auction Sale, Old Fiddlers' Contest, Merchants' Prizes

IS FIRST OF SERIES

Young Business Men Consider Further Plans Monday Night

Street banners were hung out this last week-end as Hope merchants prepared for the first of a series of Trade Days sponsored by the Young Business Men's association, Thursday, April 12.

The day will be climaxed by a great auction sale managed by Silas Sanford, well known auctioneer, in the lot behind the "Fisco-L & A" station, an old fiddlers' contest; and the giving away of many prizes by individual merchants.

Local stores are co-operating to get the Trade Day off to a good start, as in other cities where it has long been an established feature; and there will be many bargains for shoppers who come to Hope on Thursday.

Further plans for Trade Day are being considered by the Young Business Men's association at its meeting Monday night in Hope city hall. The entire membership has been urged by Secretary Syd McMath to attend.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—More than 100 Japanese military officers, said the Chinese-owned Peiping Chronicle Sunday, have arrived at this former capital, bound for the provinces and Chahar, Suiyuan, Shansi and Southern Hopei for the purpose of "getting acquainted" with the chief strategic centers in North China.

The paper said the South Manchuria railway, Japanese-owned line in Manchuria, likewise had sent agents into North China, where they are now studying economic conditions with the object of strengthening Japanese influence, especially in the coastal province of Shantung.

Other Chinese newspapers said Japanese military authorities had requested permission to hold military maneuvers in the demilitarized zone

Things Worth While

'Tis the hand you clasp with an honest grasp
'Tis the good you pour into other lives
That comes back your own to fill.
'Tis the drops you drain from another's cup
That make your own seem sweet.
And the hours you give to your brother men
That your own life make complete.
'Tis the burden you help another to bear
That makes your own seem light.
'Tis the danger seen for another's feet
That shows you the path of right.
'Tis the good you do each passing day
With a heart sincere and true.

Its best will return to you.—Selected.

Ford Is Aiming at 100,000 Per Month Deliveries Last Half of March Heaviest Since May, 1931

DEARBORN, Mich.—Spurred by insistent demands for new cars and trucks from branches and dealers, capacity production of Ford cars and trucks has been scheduled for April, it was stated Monday at the home offices of the Ford Motor company. The month's production is expected to materially exceed 90,000 and may reach 100,000 units, the total being dependent entirely upon the ability of suppliers, including body manufacturers, to furnish necessary materials and supplies, it was disclosed. The demand for new cars and trucks, it was stated, has become especially heavy in all parts of the country during the last few days since the announcement that Ford would not increase factory list prices, in common with the general prevailing trend in the industry.

Retail deliveries during the last ten days of March reached the highest total since May, 1931, and the total for March was greater than in every month of 1933, and for all months of 1932 except June, it was stated. The total of retail deliveries during the last ten days of the month was almost equal to the total for the first 20 days of the month, indicating an increased volume of retail sales as the month progressed.

Despite increased manufacturing schedules dealers' stocks at the close of March were reported below normal and below the total scheduled. The difficulty of supplying necessary cars to meet dealer demands is growing greater, it was stated, necessitating the increase in April production schedule.

Donkey Baseball Game Here April 25-26

Donkey baseball—America's new comedy game in which the players ride instead of run—will be played in Hope two nights, April 25-26, under the auspices of the Young Business Men's association.

Two local teams will appear beneath the floodlights on the high school athletic field, and their mounts will be 12 cantankerous donkeys.

The new game is one of the funniest ever introduced in sport. All players with the exception of the pitcher and catcher are required to ride Texas-trained donkeys, and these wild jackasses have a reputation of going into reverse every tight play when their riders most need them.

until her father ransomed her for $30,000, heard the threat voiced over the telephone and reported it to McElroy.

"Are you Mary McElroy?" a man asked when she answered the telephone.

Given an affirmative answer, the man made his threat, then hung up. Police guarded the McElroy residence in West 57th street until daylight following Saturday night's incident. While McElroy and his daughter were conversing in a sunparlor, a bullet entered through the window of the living room, struck a table in the dining room, and fell to the floor.

T. J. Higgins, chief of police detectives, said the bullet, a .32.20, was fired from a rifle, probably by a man concealed in the shadow of a pillar of St. Teresa's Academy across the street.

"We have nothing to fear," McElroy said Sunday. "We have not done wrong to anyone."

Recently he received a note demanding money under threat of taking his life. He regarded the note, the shooting and the telephone call as the work of "cranks."

The Citizens-Fusionist party, defeated at the city election, March 27, by the incumbent T. J. Fendergast Democratic organization, demanded that McElroy be removed. The election was marked by four slayings.

In a statement McElroy said the Citizens-Fusionist party, which demanded his resignation as the alleged "boss" tool of Fendergast, was "stirring up animosities."

"I was somewhat of an issue in that election," McElroy said. "My party won by a majority of nearly 60,000."

NEW LAXATIVE DOES 6 THINGS

Doctors believe a good laxative should have the six features which Feen-a-mint, the chewing gum laxative possesses. 1. So delicious to take that you will take it when you need it. 2. A full, prompt, complete, action that does not interfere with daily duties. 3. Non-habit forming. 4. Safe for even the delicate digestive organs of children. 5. No rich element to upset stomach or diet, or to go stale. 6. A more natural action because chewing distributes the laxative ingredient more uniformly into the intestines. That delicious Feen-a-mint does these things is proven because doctors themselves regularly prescribe the laxative ingredient which is in Feen-a-mint. "Delay" is dangerous—chew Feen-a-mint for constipation. 15c and 25c at druggists.

Father Kills His Family and Self Slays Four With Razor in Quarrel at Eureka Springs

EUREKA SPRINGS, Ark.—Warren Davis, 58, well known resident of Eureka Springs, killed his 18-year-old wife and their two children, aged 2 and 4 and then committed suicide at the family home Sunday, officers said following an investigation. A razor was the death weapon.

The bodies were discovered about noon by Miss Katherine Brown, a sister of Mrs. Davis. Physicians said the four had been dead several hours. The bodies of Mrs. Davis and one of the children were found on one bed, and those of Mr. Davis and the other child were on a sleeping porch.

The tragedy was said to have been the climax of domestic difficulties of several months duration. Mr. and Mrs. Davis had been estranged until recently. They went to a dance Saturday night, and quarreled while there, it was said.
